

1st International Conference of the Pakistan Society of Toxicology

Growing public awareness of the potential risk to humans from toxic chemicals in the environment has generated demand for new and improved methods for toxicity assessment and rational means for estimating health risk. In an attempt to contribute global solutions to major environmental health challenges, scientists around the world have extensively involved in toxicological research, studying the toxic mechanisms of action of various toxicants, developing new approaches for detecting or remedying toxicological damage that are critical for environmental and human health decision-making.

Angiogenesis and Toxicology Research Laboratory (ATRL) of the Department of Pharmacology and Toxicology, University of Veterinary and Animal Sciences, Lahore in collaboration with the Department of Clinical Neuroscience, University of Cambridge, UK and HEC Islamabad, Pakistan is pleased to organize “1st International Conference of the Pakistan Society of Toxicology” on January 26-27, 2012. World renowned toxicologists from UK, Greece, Latvia, South Korea, Philippines, Bangladesh, India and Nepal will join us in this conference. The aim of this conference is to discuss priorities in order to uplift the relationship between “toxicological exposure and health” in Pakistan and to promote multidisciplinary collaborations.

Faculty members, postgraduate students and other interested people are invited to attend this exciting conference!

Last date for Submission of Abstract: 17-12-2011
All proceedings of the conference will be published in SCI journal
